Main purpose:

Our main goal is to allow our passion for software development to remain intact while also completing any commissioned projects. We believe that working doesn't have to feel like a job, and that this would in fact increase productivity and reduce mental fatigue within the company. With a heavily employee-centric approach we aspire to create an enjoyable , friendly and fun environment to work in , and thus allowing everyones excitement for software development to flourish and present itself with every project we create.

'We' , 'Us' and 'Our' are important words to us.
